Make-a-€Million!

Make-a-€Million! is a fast and furious competitive team building event in which teams race to be the first to produce 1,000,000€ in counterfeit banknotes.

Each team receives a counterfeiting kit containing essential equipment for the forging of banknotes. It will soon become apparent that a production line for banknotes will need to be established. If your team is to win, you will need an expert at forged signatures, a serial number stamper, a paper cutter etc.

Teams will also discover that they are short of many essential materials. They have a basic printing set but no special banknote paper on which to print their notes. Additional resources can be purchased from the TRADING STATION. Teams will need to earn gold and to do this they send team members on gold earning missions...but there is one problem...to print banknotes you need gold, but if you are earning gold you can't also be printing banknotes. It's a balancing act, as teams try to earn sufficient gold to finance the whole operation.

Only high quality counterfeits will be accepted at the Bank of Corruption & Commercial Ineptitude (BCCI). Regular updates keep everyone abreast of progress as the teams race towards the winning million.

TEAM LEARNING: communication and organisation of a team, problem solving as a group, work together for a common goal.

"A well-centred and professional organisation, friendly staff and good communication during the preparation of the event have all allowed Eventus to reach our objectives."
