

GPS Treasure Hunt

For groups of between 6 and 150 "treasure-seekers!" An outdoor team building event typically lasting for half-a-day.

A treasure hunt is an old favourite for getting teams working together and having fun; a great way to build teams while exploring a new or familiar area. Our treasure hunts run at sites all over the UK and France, and in major cities across Europe - including London, Paris and Prague. And now exotic locations such as Marrakesh.

Our GPS Treasure Hunt brings the treasure hunt into the new Millennium! GPS is simple to grasp, great fun to use and will really appeal to those who can't resist new toys! We equip each of your teams (for this event we recommend teams of 3-5 participants) with a GPS handset. The GPS will pinpoint your current position with great accuracy and then guide you on a route to a series of landmarks programmed into the GPS unit.

Following a GPS route is quite straightforward in open areas, such as parkland where you can follow a straight-line bearing. In the urban jungle (or perhaps a scenic town or village) it's not quite so easy! For example, the GPS may be guiding you straight ahead but the junction you have reached only offers a left or right choice of routes. Decision time! Wherever you move, your current position is updated every few seconds with information about where you are in relation to your target.

The great thing about the GPS Treasure Hunt is the flexibility. We can make the treasure trail wide-ranging or stay within the grounds of a selected venue (given the odd acre or two to play with!). The treasure quest can be highly cryptic and cerebral, or a straightforward race to claim the prize. Alternatively, we can build in collaborative elements requiring all teams to work together to reach the treasure box. Or we can take your participants on a treasure trail that visits fine sites or historic landmarks.

We can arrange to meet your team at a venue you have arranged, at your place of work, or at a suitable pub or cafe. We'll welcome your participants and introduce the activity. Then we dish out the gadgets (GPS, digital cameras, radios etc) and off we go!

The treasure hunt ends with the treasure chest being opened - often just seconds before the final deadline!

London, Bristol, Manchester, Edinburgh, Lake District, Cotswolds, East Anglia, West Midlands...you name it, we've probably run a great treasure hunt there! And a recent addition is our European cities Treasure Hunts.
